Children Will Shine

A British Dyslexia Association project supported by the Dyslexia-SpLD Trust

The Children Will Shine project will provide support for children with literacy difficulties through out-of-school workshops, using tried and tested literacy materials. The workshops are run in deprived inner-city areas working with Parent Partnership services and local authorities.

The British Dyslexia Association say:

“One of the important benefits of high parental involvement is that it offers parents the opportunity to sit in on the workshops and learn effective ways they can teach and support their children’s learning at home.”

Children Will Shine

A British Dyslexia Association project supported by the Dyslexia-SpLD Trust

Between 2011 and 2013, the Trust will be supporting national and smaller organisations to develop their existing high quality services to encourage up-scaling and prolonged sustainability

Children Will Shine delivered by the British Dyslexia Association is a strong example of this.

How it works

The key strengths of Children Will Shine are to:

- ✓ Provide out-of-school workshops to support children with literacy difficulties in deprived areas, using a sustainable model.
- ✓ Engage with, and encourage participation of parents and new volunteers.
- ✓ Improve the expertise of the schools workforce in the local areas by providing training for Teaching Assistants.

There are currently workshops in Southwark, Barnet and East Manchester.
